The National Organization of Professional Black Natural Resources Conservation Service Employees (NOPBNRCSE) Mr. James E. Tatum Scholarship Program

The National Organization of Professional Black Natural Resources Conservation Service Employees (NOPBNRCSE) is also known as The Organization. The Organization's Scholarship Program – named Mr. James E. Tatum – is committed to providing college scholarships to deserving students pursuing a bachelor's degree in Agricultural Sciences or related fields. Applicants must be currently enrolled, or planning to attend one of the following 1890 universities:

Alabama A&M University	Prairie View A&M University, Texas
Alcorn State University, Mississippi	South Carolina State University
Delaware State University	Southern University, Louisiana
Florida A&M University	Tennessee State University
Fort Valley State University, Georgia	Tuskegee University, Alabama
Kentucky State University	University of Arkansas, Pine Bluff
Langston University, Oklahoma	University of Maryland, Eastern Shore
Lincoln University, Missouri	Virginia State University
North Carolina A&T University	West Virginia State University
Central State University, Ohio

Purpose

The purpose of the Mr. James E. Tatum Scholarship Program is to:

- Strengthen the long-term partnership between The Organization, USDA, and 1890 institutions.
- Increase the number of students studying agriculture, natural resource sciences and other related disciplines.

Objective

The Organization offers a limited scholarship (there will be a one year waiting period of one year for individuals who have previously received the scholarship) fund to U.S. citizens who are seeking a bachelor's degree at one of the eighteen 1890 Historically Black Land-Grant Institutions. The field of study must be in the area of agriculture, natural resource sciences, or related disciplines. Studies must be in the following:

Agriculture	Botany
Agriculture Business/Management	Farm and Range Management
Agriculture Economics	Forestry
Agriculture Engineering/Mechanics	Horticulture
Agriculture Production & Technology	Natural Resource Management
Agronomy or Crop Science	Soil Conservation
Animal Science	Plant and Soil Science
Food Science and Technology	Environmental Sciences
Nutritional Sciences	Wildlife Management

The Award

Scholarships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded annually to students who attend one of the listed 1890 Historically Black Land-Grant Institutions.

Who May Apply

Applicants who are U.S. citizens, have a high school diploma or G.E.D. certificate, and are starting and/or already enrolled in one of the listed colleges or universities for Fall semester, may apply for the scholarship. Applicants must also have a minimum 2.80 grade point average, to be considered.

Application Deadline

Only complete application packets will be accepted. This includes the Application, Official/Certified Transcripts, and Two (2) Letters of Recommendations. If the applicant fails to submit all of the required documents, the application will be ineligible for review. All applications must be received by 5:00 p.m. (CST) on Friday, October 25, 2019.

Send Completed Application and All Required Documents to:
Kevin Norwood, HBCU Scholarship Committee Chair, Kevin.Norwood@usda.gov
Electronic submissions are required.

General Eligibility

The Applicant Must:

- Be a U.S. Citizen.
- Be an entering freshman, or already enrolled at a college or university as of the fall semester/quarter for the 2019 school year.
- Hold a High School Diploma or G.E.D. certificate.
- Have a High School/College GPA of 2.80 or better.
- Attend one of the 1890 Historically Black Land-Grant Institutions listed above.
- Study Agriculture, Natural Resources Sciences, or other related fields.
- Submit a completed Application Form (this form is fillable and can be submitted electronically by pressing 'Submit' at the end of this packet. Make sure your application is complete.)
- Submit a copy of an official or certified high school or college transcript. All transcripts should come from the current institution or most recent institution attended. (Attach to email for electronic submission).
- Submit two (2) Letters of Recommendations (Attach to email for electronic submission).
 - one from a Teacher, Professor, Counselor, etc., and
 - one from a Community Leader
- Sign application where applicable (electronically sign all areas of application packet)

Scholarship recipients will be announced at the 2019 Outreach and Agriculture Education Expo in Atlanta, Georgia from December 6 - December 8, 2019.

Thank you for taking the time to submit your application.
